Upsilon XI

Upsilon XI CONTINUED to be the campus's unique group throughout the school year. That company which meets at the most unusual hours placed great emphasis on the true role of leadership in relation to the group's two avowed purposes of fellowship and service.

It seems as if the Upsies have brought that girl Sadie Hawkins to Lee to stay. This year's efforts were capped about three hundred times with success. Other big social gadabouts were the Christmas party and the spring banquet. At these social events Miss Wanda Johnson wore the Sweet-heart roses.

The Lee Chapter of Tammany Hall boasts Junus Fulbright as Student Government Veep while John Lombard triples as president of PDO and the Bible College seniors and sets forth PFCers. Max Gerstman knows the combination to the Vindicta safe and ranks as the chief scholar of Phi Theta Kappa. Ted Bowman pounds the gavel for the Bible College juniors—Samuel Robeff pinch hits; Johnny Johnson heads up Junior College sophs and Phi Beta Lambda. Doug LeRoy ranks second to Lombard in PFC while Richard Goodman tours with the Lee Singers. Dennis McGuire lends that international flavor by guiding the Seniors and Senioritas of the Spanish Club; Robeff is his second.

Duran Palmertree is the president of Upsilon XI and Ron Harvard backs him up. Richard Goodman scribbles and holds the purse strings, while Ted Bowman keeps the clan on the straight and narrow.
